November 2014 marks the Palm Beach County Library System’s 11th Annual Families Reading Together Campaign. This event serves to remind the community of the importance of sharing books with children and encouraging them to read on their own. This project is made possible by community sponsors and all events are free to the public.

During this year’s Families Reading Together celebration, all preschoolers and children attending kindergarten through first grade will be encouraged to read “Reading Makes You Feel Good,” by Todd Parr. Elementary school and public libraries will conduct special programs for the event. Additional outreach programming for day care centers will be provided by the Palm Beach County Library System.

Kicking off the festivities on Nov 01, the Palm Beach County Library System has planned a day of exciting activities at the Palm Beach Zoo. Children showing their library card will receive free admission for themselves and one adult and the children will receive a free book from the Great Book Giveaway. Families Reading Together programs during November include performances by Celtic harpist and storyteller Patrick Ball, performances by Ballet Palm Beach, a teen photography exhibit, and a bookmark design contest.

This campaign is sponsored by the Friends of the Palm Beach County Library System.

For more information visit the Palm Beach County Library System website at www.pbclibrary.org.

All Palm Beach County Library System locations will be closed on Tue, Nov 11, for Veterans Day.

All Palm Beach County Library System locations will close at 5:00 pm, Wed, Nov 26 and remain closed on Thu, Nov 27 & Fri, Nov 28, for Thanksgiving. No materials are due on those days.
