Hit the Books With an Array of Online Tools

Getting an "A" on your paper or project is now easier than ever with these online resources for students of all ages at www.pbclibrary.org/online-research. There are many tools available ranging from live online tutors to interactive tutorials, practice tests and more.

If you need a tutor to get help in Math, Science, English, Social Studies, or Writing check out Tutor.com. Just visit our site from any computer, enter your library card number, grade level and the subject you need help in and you will be matched with the right tutor. Live one-to-one help is available Sun – Thu, 3:00 pm to 9:00 pm and Sat, 2:00 pm to 7:00 pm. Assistance is also available in Spanish for Math and Science homework, Sun - Thu, 2:00 pm to 10:00 pm.

Want to see that test in English, History or Science? The World Almanac® for Kids Online is a fun way for you to practice what you’ve learned in class. You can take quizzes again and again to reinforce what you learned in class and to identify areas that need more practice. There are more than 40 new interactive worksheets specially created to support the STEM content with topics like animals, the human body, planet Earth, plants, and space and astronomy. Students can use the drag-and-drop functionality to label diagrams, match words, and fill in the blanks. There are also crossword puzzles and word searches to make learning fun.
