From the Director

Do you have your card? Do your friends and family have a card?

This September, the Library System is joining the American Library Association (ALA) and libraries nationwide for Library Card Sign-up Month. Parents, caregivers and students are encouraged to obtain a free library card that will save them money while reaping the rewards in academic success and lifelong learning.

As students begin the school year, there is one essential school supply that requires no shopping and doesn’t cost a penny – it’s a library card. Every student who attends school in Palm Beach County is eligible to receive a Library card to borrow materials from any of our 17 locations and our bookmobile. Parents can apply online and visit one of our locations to pick up their child’s card. The card also allows students to access many of our online resources including Live Homework Help, Learning Express and Lynda.com.

During the last week of September, ALA celebrates the freedom to read with Banned Books Week which brings together the entire community — librarians, booksellers, publishers, journalists, teachers and readers of all ages — in shared support of the freedom to seek and to express ideas, even those some consider unorthodox or unpopular. This month, our Staff Recommendations feature books that have been banned or challenged. Discover more about Banned Books on page 10.

The Library is also celebrating Hispanic Heritage Month which runs from September 15 to October 15 with activities, performances and lectures. The kickoff celebration will be held on September 08, 2:00 pm at the Main Library with lively music from the Andes and folk dances from Peru. This is the 15th year that we have held this celebration and it has become one of our signature series of events.

Encourage a friend or family member to get a library card to enrich their lives. Read a banned or challenged book to inspire thought. Connect with the community and partake in one of our Hispanic Heritage Month events.

Happenings
Hispanic Heritage Month began in 1968 as a week-long celebration. In 1988, President Ronald Regan proclaimed September 15 – October 15 as National Hispanic Heritage Month. September 15 marks the independence day of five Latin American countries: Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua. Mexico, Chile, and Belize also celebrate their independence during September.

According to the population estimates for 2017 from the Census, 22.3 percent of the population of Palm Beach County are of Hispanic or Latino heritage, those from Puerto Rico, South or Central America, or other Spanish origins, regardless of race. Hispanic Heritage Month celebrates Hispanic arts, culture and music. Throughout the month, you can attend performances and activities at Library locations throughout the county to celebrate your heritage or learn about your neighbors, their culture, traditions and music.

There are many ways to celebrate

1. Read works from celebrated Hispanic authors Luis Alberto Urrea, Javier Marias, Rosa Montero, Gabriel Garcia Marquez, Steven Alvarez, Sandra Cisneros, and Cristina Henriquez.

2. Explore Hispanic cuisine. Try pão de queijo from Brazil, or Argentinian chimichurri (green sauce) with choripán featured in “A Taste of Latin America: Culinary Traditions and Classic Recipes From Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Mexico, Peru, Puerto Rico & Venezuela,” by Patricia Cartin. Try your hand at a new dish at home or visit one of the many local restaurants featuring Hispanic and Latino cuisine.

3. Me gusta la biblioteca. Learn to speak Spanish using our online resource – Transparent Language.

4. Visit the Galapagos Islands in Ecuador to see species of animals not found anywhere else on the planet. Can't afford to take this trip of a lifetime, check out our travel books and documentaries.

5. From Mr. 305, Pitbull, to Selena, Queen of Tejano, you can listen to your favorite Latin artist on CD, Freegal or hoopla.

6. Learn about influential Hispanic Americans from multiple generations including actresses Rita Moreno to Gina Rodriguez, activists and politicians like Carmen Perez and Tom Perez, and leaders like Sonia Sotomayor to Pope Francis.

7. Find your passion for telenovelas, foreign films or Spanish language classics like Women on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown.

Enjoy lively performances by Wayna: Music of the Andes with music from Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia, and a Peruvian folkloric dance by the Marinera Kids. (2 hr.) Preregister. Sat, Sep 08, 2:00 pm Main Library

Hispanic Heritage Month 🇨🇴
Celebrate the Power of Words During Banned Books Week

September 23-29 is Banned Books Week, which focuses on efforts across the country to remove or restrict access to books, and draws national attention to censorship.

A challenge is an attempt to remove or restrict materials, based on objections of a person or group. A banning is the removal of those materials. While books have been and continue to be banned, part of the Banned Books Week celebration is that, in a majority of cases, the books have remained available. This happens because of the efforts of librarians, teachers, students, and community members who stand up and speak out for the freedom to read. In 2017, the American Library Association tracked 354 challenges to library and school materials.

The reasons books are challenged or banned includes topics, genres, time periods, and audiences. A common reason children's book are challenged is that the content is unsuited or inappropriate for that age group. Authors such as Alvin Schwartz, Mildred D. Taylor and Roald Dahl are listed more than once on ALA's list of 130 frequently challenged children's books. Many books written for young adult audiences or with a young adult main character are often challenged as well. At least 46 of the Radcliffe Publishing Course Top 100 Novels of the 20th Century have been the targets of ban attempts. Books by or about people of color, LGBT people and/or people with disabilities are frequently challenged.

To find out more visit ALA.org/advocacy/bbooks.

Staff Recommends

In recognition of Banned Books Week, an annual event celebrating the freedom to read, this month’s staff recommends features challenged or banned books.

Fiction

Historically famous for setting legal precedents for defense against obscenity charges.

“Lady Chatterley’s Lover,” by D.H. Lawrence
Lady Chatterley, unhappy and emotionally neglected by her paralyzed older-husband, has an affair with Oliver Mellors, the gamekeeper, on her husband’s estate. Themes in the novel include class differences and the changes taking place in British society in the aftermath of World War I.

Sexually explicit, offensive language, and violence.

“The Color Purple,” by Alice Walker
The story of two sisters told through letters. Celie suffers while growing up in rural Georgia in the 1930s as a child wife who writes letters to Nettie who grows up in Africa as a missionary.

Challenged by parents due to the subject matter - teen suicide, is a Netflix series.

“Thirteen Reasons Why,” by Jay Asher
High-school student, Clay Jenkins, finds a box of 13 cassette tapes recorded by classmate, Hannah Baker before she committed suicide. Clay spends the night reliving the moments leading up to Hannah’s death.

Challenged by parents in multiple school districts for profanity.

“Eleanor & Park,” by Rainbow Rowell
Eleanor is struggling with a difficult home life, and Park feels like an outsider at school. After they sit next to each other on the bus, a connection begins to form between the two. A well-written story of first love and the struggles that many teens face.

Nonfiction

Challenged by a parent in a Tennessee School.

“The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks,” by Rebecca Skloot
Henrietta Lacks, a 31-year-old black woman, died of cervical cancer in 1951. Her DNA was used without her consent, which resulted in scores of medical advances.

Get Professional Help With Your Research Needs

One of the most valuable assets of the Library System is the professional research knowledge of our librarians. These professionals are available to assist you through the Book-A-Librarian service. Through years of education and experience, these individuals know the best sources to use to gather the most accurate information in the most efficient manner. Based on their unique training and individual interests they can assist you with a variety of topics ranging from starting a business, finding information about a doctor or medical condition or basic help with your college research paper.

Perhaps you need help getting started with researching your family history and are not sure how to navigate through the powerful online research service, Ancestry Library Edition. You can schedule to meet with a library genealogy expert to show you how to find out about your history.

In addition to our research librarians, many of our library specialists are experts using the latest technology. They are available to help you use your new iPad or e-reader so that you can download music, audiobooks or videos for the Library collection, or to help you FaceTime with your grandchildren. Whatever your needs we are here to help you feel comfortable using your mobile device.

But our services are not just for mobile devices; we can also help you learn to use the Microsoft Office software. You can also learn how to access any number of our other online resources like Lynda.com or LearningExpress to help you change career paths or learn new skills.

You can schedule time to meet with one of our research professionals. Services vary by branch – some locations offer specific times where you can drop in or schedule a time with a specialist to help you with a specific research topic.

Call or stop by your local branch to schedule your appointment today.
