Gina Apostol
Gina Apostol is an educator and acclaimed author. Her third book, “Gun Dealers’ Daughter,” was awarded the 2013 PEN/Open Book Award and was shortlisted for the William Saroyan International Prize. Publisher’s Weekly named her fourth novel, “Insurrecto,” one of the Ten Best Books of 2018 before it hit the shelves, making her the cover author of its Best Books Issue. The book tells the story of a Filipino translator and an American filmmaker, embarking on a road trip in Duterte’s Philippines, collaborating and clashing in the writing of a film script about a massacre during the Philippine-American War. Apostol pushes up against the limits of fiction in order to recover the atrocity in Balangiga, and in so doing, shows us the dark heart of an untold and forgotten war that would shape the next century of Philippine and American history.

She grew up in Tacloban, Philippines and now resides in New York City and Western Massachusetts.

Are you ready to celebrate?
To commemorate our golden anniversary we are joining with the Friends of the Palm Beach County Library System to host a yearlong celebration. We look forward to sharing unique and exciting events and activities with our members along with highlighting our historical past and looking ahead to an exciting future.

This month, we focus on sustainability. For many years the Library community has focused on three dimensions of sustainability: the environment, the economy and equitable service for all. This focus is about ensuring that our members have the resources to thrive, even when faced with adversity and uncertainty. This concept of sustainability aligns with the Library’s core values to provide equal access to information and our mission to connect communities, inspire thought and enrich lives. I hope that you will find activities and resources that inspire you to explore issues of sustainability.

February is Black History Month and we hope you will join us on Saturday, Feb 2 for the kickoff at the Lantana Road Branch Library, with performances by Afrique Ngozi Children’s Dance and Drum Company, and Jazz Saxophonist, Shenole Latimer. See page 8 for a list of all the activities celebrating Black History Month.

If you haven’t already done so, I encourage you to download cloudLibrary, our new provider of e-books and e-audiobooks. This service provides more e-book and e-audiobook titles, advanced search options, reading recommendations and more.

We are excited about our 50th anniversary, as we celebrate half a century of opening minds to a world of unlimited possibilities. We hope you will join us in celebrating the Library and our role in the community.

Sincerely,

Douglas Crane, Library Director

Celebrate Black History Month!

By Maribel De Jesús, Multicultural Outreach Services Librarian

Join us for book discussions, musical performances, films, African American genealogical research, and much more. With over 20 events being offered, there will be something for all ages and interests.

Black History Month has its national roots in a week-long observation initiated by Dr. Carter G. Woodson in 1926, it was expanded into Black History Month by President Ford in 1976, and became Public Law 99-244 in 1986.

Ways The Library Makes Our Community Thrive

To celebrate our 50th anniversary, the Library is hosting a yearlong celebration. This month our focus is on sustainability, which means making sure that future generations have the same or improved quality of life as we have today. The Library community has expanded the definition to include the economy, providing equitable service for all and ensuring that our members have the resources to thrive even when faced with adversity and uncertainty. This concept of sustainability aligns with the Library’s core values to provide equal access to information and our vision to open minds to unlimited possibilities. We are committed to supporting a thriving community. Below are ways we achieve that.

1. Educational information for all.
   Regardless of your age or socio-economic status, you can access educational resources on our shelves, on our website, at our activities and from our staff. You can count on finding the resources you need to succeed in life. Last year our staff answered more than 1.9 million questions about book recommendations, internet and computer training, résumé writing and job applications, applying for government assistance and help with business and medical questions. Talking Books, Books-By-Mail and the Bookmobile provide services to members who are unable to make it to a Library branch.

2. Boosting the local economy.
   By helping individuals financially succeed in their lives and businesses, the Library helps sustain a thriving and growing economy. The State Library of Florida calculated that for every dollar spent on libraries, the community receives $10.18 in economic return. Our Libraries serve as a work space for start-up businesses, offer free Wi-Fi and internet access to job seekers, and computer training and skill development for career growth. There are workshops for small business owners, consumers and investors.

   Our Libraries provide a safe refuge for underserved and under-resourced populations. Each morning when we open our doors we provide a critical service for the community as learning centers, community centers and employment centers for these underserved populations. We offer opportunities for all ages. Baby lap-sit and story times spark an early love of reading and give our littlest members a chance to socialize with other children. There are a wide range of activities for teens with book discussions, games and crafts designed to keep them engaged with us and other like-minded youth. Adults can enjoy lifelong learning experiences with lively discussions, hands-on activities and programs to keep them active. We also offer sensory story times for members with different sensory abilities.

4. Welcome center for immigrants.
   We offer U.S. Naturalization Information Sessions and Citizenship kits to explain the eligibility requirements and the steps to become a U.S. citizen. We host naturalization ceremonies where hundreds of community members have become U.S. citizens and where many of our staff have shared their own naturalization experiences. We have an expanding collection of non-English books to be more inclusive for all readers and provide online resources to help English learners and English Exchange classes for practice speaking in a fun, informal atmosphere.

5. Free cultural opportunities.
   Our branches host many musical performances ranging from folk to jazz for all ages. Throughout the year we feature celebrations that recognize the diversity of our community including Black History Month, Chinese New Year, Haitian Heritage Month, Hispanic Heritage Month, Italian Culture and Heritage Month and more. Theatrical performances bring history to life to delight both young and old. Special children’s activities entertain children and introduce them to everything from ballet to science.

   Most people don’t think of the library as a place for health and wellness but our locations offer many classes for the wellbeing of our community. From chair yoga to Sahaja meditation and Medicare and mindfulness these classes promote a healthier community. In addition, our Consumer Health Information Specialist is available to help you make informed medical decisions via email and in-person by appointment.

7. Generating conversations about ecological sustainability.
   From gardening workshops to seed sharing, there are a number of activities that encourage members of the community to learn about our natural resources. We partner with local nature centers to educate Palm Beach County residents about native and non-native animals. In addition we work with other partners like Cooperative Extension for professional advice on topics ranging from growing and using herbs to developing healthy homegrown meals.

   Visit the Online Resources page of the website for online tutoring in math, science, social studies and language arts. Tutors are available for Grades K-12, College intro and Adult Learners, Sunday - Thursday, 3:00 pm to 9:00 pm and Saturday, 2:00 pm to 7:00 pm. Assistance in Spanish for Math and Science homework is available Sunday - Thursday, 2:00 pm to 10:00 pm.

The Friends of the Library are the proud sponsors of more than 200 activities and classes at branch locations throughout the County. Their support allows the Library to purchase craft supplies, bring in talented musical performers and purchase equipment used in training. Without their support the Library would not be able to offer many of the musical performances, presentations, craft activities and educational workshops. The Friends funds support items that are not covered by the Library’s budget.
