10 Things A Research Librarian Can Help You Accomplish

Google can provide you with 1,000s of answers to a question and then you have to click through the ads and links that really don't address your needs. Librarians, on the other hand, are the original search engine. They can help you find answers that you may never have thought of. Here are some examples.

1. Find Your Ancestors
   Discovering who you are and where your family came from is very popular and our librarians have the skills to help you use online tools like Ancestry.com Library Edition and Heritage Quest. You can also visit the Palm Beach County Genealogy Society which is located at the Main Library in West Palm Beach.

2. Start A Business
   Starting a new business can be a daunting experience. There are so many things to consider – do you really need a business plan, what about marketing, are you eligible to be a minority owned business? Our business librarian can walk you through the steps and find examples of business and marketing plans. Librarians can help you conduct research to find out if there is a demand in the area for the type of business you are thinking of starting.

3. Use A Computer
   Computer training is available at many of our locations to help you learn to use a computer. Classes for novices who need to learn the basics of using a mouse or setting up email are offered as are classes for more advance users to improve your Excel skills or to set up a Google Drive for file sharing. Our digital media lab, the CreationStation, is located at the Main Library and you can use the lab to create music, make a podcast or film a commercial.

4. Apply For A Job
   Finding a job has become easier for those who have access to a computer and are comfortable using the internet. Whether you are a young adult applying for your first job or a worker returning to the workforce library staff can show you resources to help you land a job, write a cover letter or simply navigate to the website and fill out an application.

5. Find That Green Book When You Cannot Remember The Title
   Librarians have mad skills when it comes to locating reading materials. If you can remember some of the details of the story our staff will help you find the title.

6. Check Your Doctor's Credentials
   Our Community Health Information Specialist can help you find out about your new doctor’s credentials, see if they are licensed in our state and whether or not they have had any liability claims filed against them.

7. Try A New Recipe
   Our shelves are filled with cookbooks with everything from vegan to keto. Our librarians can help you use that InstaPot you got last season. You can also find recipes using your tablet or smartphone while shopping for groceries. Magazines including Eating Well, Clean Eating, Food Network Magazine, Paleo, Vegetarian Today and Weight Watchers are available from RBDigital.

8. Sign Up For Government Benefits
   Librarians are experts at finding the right form to sign up for food stamps or Medicare Part D. They can help you access the site and show you how to use one of our computers to fill out the forms. At some of our locations you can sign up for SNAP (Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program) benefits and even veterans can meet with Veterans Services at the Hagen Ranch Road Branch – check for dates in the calendar of events.

9. Book A Study Room Or Meeting Room
   Visit the research desk where one of our librarians will sign you up for use of one of our study rooms. Some of our branches have group study rooms available where you can conduct a meeting. Non-profit organizations can sign up to use our meeting rooms. Visit www.pbclibray.org to read the meeting room use policy.

10. Research Your Project
    Whether you are conducting research for your child’s science fair project or looking for data to present to your community organization our librarians are experts at finding the information you need to complete your task.

The month of May is a time when spring is in full bloom. However, even with more sunshine and sunny days, millions of Americans struggle due to mental illness. This can lead to depression, fractured families, and even suicide. During May, we are inspiring the community to raise awareness and work towards eliminating the stigma associated with mental illness. The Library System provides free access to resources and activities that support mental health. See page 7 for a list of events.

This month we are honoring the survivors and victims of the Holocaust and will be holding remembrance activities throughout May. We offer a list of Holocaust Remembrance events on page 12.

Additionally, we continue to celebrate cultures that make up Palm Beach County through performances, documentary showings and book discussion. From Haitian heritage to Jewish American and Asian Pacific American heritages, our County is truly a fusion of many different and vibrant cultures from around the world.

The internet is everywhere, but with its bounty of information comes much need for caution. May is Internet Danger Month and on page 7 you can view a list of activities on how to be safe while surfing the internet, as well as how to prevent internet danger. And, if you are in need of assistance with computers and technology, we offer recurring Technology Training classes that cover everything from computer basics, email and mobile devices to coding and podcasting. View page 14 for a list of activities.

Finally, if you're looking for your next great read, I also encourage you to make use of our BookSquad and check out our Staff Recommends page. Both will offer some great titles and may even help you find your new favorite book!

Commemorations and celebrations fill the month of May, and we hope you join us by visiting our social media pages, website and one of our branches.

Sincerely,

Douglas Crane

A roadmap to the future

The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams.
-Eleanor Roosevelt

Despite fears of libraries becoming obsolete due to the proliferation of smart phones, Google, the internet and online retailers like Amazon.com, they remain relevant community resources.

The Library System has been making a difference in Palm Beach County for five decades. From helping people find a good book to entertaining children with story times to teaching important skills like how to read or find a job or use a computer, the staff and volunteers have been committed to enriching the lives of people of all ages.

As the Library System continues to grow and evolve, remembering how it all started—with a group of concerned women who sought to improve library service in the county—will provide the roadmap to the future of all Palm Beach County residents.

SPOONDED BY THE FRIENDS OF THE PALM BEACH COUNTY LIBRARY SYSTEM.
Staff Recommends

WOMEN’S FICTION/CHICK LIT

“How to Walk Away,” by Katherine Center

Fun, heart-warming read that expresses how tragedy can sometimes make you not only happier but a better person. Margaret Jacobsen’s life was going perfectly until a tragic accident causes her to lose the ability to walk. The entire experience teaches her those who really matter in her life and what she should value.

HISTORICAL FICTION

“The Silence of the Girls,” by Pat Barker

Very illuminating and powerful look into women’s lives during wartime. For fans of Madeline Miller. “The Iliad,” as experienced by the captured women living in the Greek camp in the final weeks of the Trojan War.

MYSTERY

“Newcomer,” by Keigo Higashino

I couldn’t put it down. Each chapter was a story within the story and focused on character drama as much as mystery. International best-seller Keigo Higashino does not disappoint with this new series following Detective Kyoichiro Kaga. It’s a quick read, a murder mystery where it seems almost everyone in the neighborhood has a motive. Kaga works to solve the neighborhoods’ mini-mysteries and dramas in order to track down the real killer.

NONFICTION

“Forest Bathing Retreat: Find Wholeness in the Company of Trees,” by Hannah Fries

I wanted a book that could give me the quiet, inspiration and words of meditation during the times I need it the most. If I’m unable to go to a forest, this is the next best thing, right in this book!

People have been retreating to the woods for quiet, meditation, and inspiration for centuries, and recent research finds that time spent in the forest doesn’t just feel good but is, in fact, good for you. Inspired by the Japanese concept of shinrin-yoku, or forest bathing, poet Hannah Fries invites readers to bask in the company of trees, whether in a city park or a rural nature preserve.

“The Good Immigrant: 26 Writers Reflect on America,” by Nikesh Shukla

There’s something so comforting about reading essays that makes you feel so SEEN! A set of essays from writers and artists share personal stories that grapple with a country increasingly polarized about immigrants and immigration.

FANTASY

“Gregor the Overlander,” by Suzanne Collins

It’s a great series to read for people who love Percy Jackson and Harry Potter. Eleven-year-old Gregor’s father has been missing for two years, leaving him to help take care of his two sisters. But when Boots, ever the adventurous toddler, falls down the vents in their laundry room, the last thing Gregor expects to find when he dives after her is a secret civilization. Oh, and giant animals. Did I mention the Prophecy?

POLITICAL HUMOR

The authors are the creators of a popular and hilarious podcast. This book was one of the funniest books I’ve ever read, but in the most enlightening way possible.

The creators of the cult-hit podcast Chapo Trap House deliver a manifesto for everyone who feels orphaned and alienated—politically, culturally and economically—by the bloodless Wall Street centrism of the Democrats and the lizard-brained atavism of the right: there is a better way, the Chapo Way.

Sherlock Holmes: More Real Than Life Itself
Sherlock Holmes is one of the most enduring characters ever created. In fact, his fame overshadowed his creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, leading to an eventual attempt to kill off the super-sleuth. This lecture from FAU Professor of American Literature Taylor Hagood considers Holmes and the numerous ways he has been envisioned and remembered. Presented in partnership with the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at FAU. (60 min.)

HELP SUPPORT ACTIVITIES

The Friends of the Library are the proud sponsors of more than 200 activities and classes at branch locations throughout the County. Their support allows the Library to purchase craft supplies, bring in talented musical performers and purchase equipment used in training. Without their support the Library would not be able to offer many of the musical performances, presentations, craft activities and educational workshops. The Friends funds support items that are not covered by the Library’s budget.
