We are welcoming fall with stories and crafts that romanticize the changing of the seasons, with pumpkin crafts, Halloween celebrations and more.

October is Family History Month and we will be hosting activities to help you research your ancestry. You can also use some of our online research tools like Ancestry Library Edition and HeritageQuest to find out more about your family history. Our Main Library is even hosting a Genealogy Fair this month. For more genealogy-related activities and workshops, take a look at our Branch Classes & Events pages and keep an eye out for this icon.

Hispanic Heritage Month celebrations continue through October 15. From Peru’s folklore to Mexico’s dance and music, we’re sure you’ll find something to pique your interest and inspire you to learn about another culture. See page 9 for events and activities that celebrate the Hispanic culture.

This month and every month, we offer activities for individuals with special needs and their families. Some of our branches also offer Sensory Friendly Browsing Hours, designed to provide a quieter and calmer environment.

Lastly, did you know that you have free access to digital magazines with your Library card? Use your laptop, tablet or cellphone to view “National Geographic,” “People,” “The Economist,” “Good Housekeeping,” and more at www.pbclibrary.org/magazines.

As we look forward to cooler and crisper weather, we hope to see you this October. At any one of our branches, you can learn a new skill, attend an activity or just sit back and read a good book.

Sincerely,

Douglas Crane
Library Director
Resources That Will Help You Embark on Your Family History Quest

Genealogy is a fascinating pastime that continues to be one of the most popular hobbies. Finding out about where you came from can be quite inspiring and transforming. Delve deeper into your family’s history and learn more about you.

Here are some helpful tools and resources for exploring your family history.

1. Book-A-Librarian
   Not sure where to start? Ask one of our librarians! Our librarians can guide you towards the best tools and resources for your search. Our Acreage, Glades Road, Main Library, Royal Palm Beach, and Wellington Branches offer personalized genealogy assistance by appointment. Visit www.pbclibrary.org/assistance for more information.

2. Genealogical Society of Palm Beach County
   Visit the Genealogical Society of Palm Beach County’s collection in the lower level of the Main Library, open Mon-Fri, 10:00 am - 4:00 pm. The collection includes more than 13,000 books, digital resources, a large periodical collection, as well as friendly volunteers who can answer your questions and help guide you on your quest.

3. Activities & Workshops
   We are also offering activities this month like Genealogy Labs, Personal Digital Archiving and more. Look for activities with this symbol in the Branch Classes & Events pages for classes and workshops that can help you with your ancestral quest. This month, the Main Library is even hosting a Genealogy Fair. During October, we are also continuing our celebration of Hispanic Heritage Month with events and workshops. Keep an eye out for this icon in the Branch Classes & Events pages for activities that honor the Hispanic culture.

4. Family History Online Resources
   A few of the databases you can use for free with your Library card include Ancestry Library Edition (can only be accessed from the library locations), Heritage Quest, Family Search (LDS) and more. Search through census, military, immigration, records and more. Visit www.pbclibrary.org/genealogy. The Genealogy Research information site is provided as a public service by the Library System’s Government Research Service (GRS) and research services staff.

5. Archives & Records Centers
   You can find out more about your roots with historical guides, documents, biographies and museum records from Eastern Europe to Asia and Africa. Some archives and records centers are also available online.

6. Audiobooks, Books, E-Books & E-Audiobooks
   With your library card, you have free access to print and digital genealogy self-help books, biographies, cookbooks and more that can connect you to the culture and traditions of your ancestors. Whether you’re looking for more information on your family tree, heraldry, culture or traditions, we have your genealogical needs covered!

7. Newspapers & Magazines
   Many of our branches offer history, travel and genealogy magazines in print, as well as newspaper archives. We also have a collection of microfilm holdings for local newspapers. You can also access digital publications at www.pbclibrary.org/using-the-library/find/magazines-newspapers.

8. Genealogy Internet Links
   At www.pbclibrary.org/genealogy, we offer a list of genealogy links to guide you on your quest. View obituaries, passenger lists, census records and more.

FICTION

“Anne of Green Gables,” by L.M. Montgomery

“I’m so glad I live in a world where there are Octobers.” This is a wonderful story everyone should read. Anne Shirley is a friend every reader will love to have.

Anne, an orphan girl, is sent to Marilla and Matthew Cuthbert by mistake. While trying to adopt a boy to help work on their farm, the Cuthbert’s ended up with Anne, who they could not send away after learning that an evil woman in town was attempting to adopt her. Anne gains many friendships in her new town with her eager, quick-witted, and bright attitude. While working on the farm, she also finds herself excelling in school and aspires to become a teacher.

“Orange World and Other Stories,” by Karen Russell

If you’re in the mood for atmospheric Halloween ghost stories, give this collection a read. I’d enjoyed a couple of Karen Russell’s stories in “The New Yorker” and was eager to read more. I was not disappointed.

The eight tales in “Orange World and Other Stories” take everyday situations — new motherhood, teen love, rising sea levels — into the realm of the surreal. Karen Russell was born and raised in Miami, and while Florida is less central to this collection than to some of Russell’s earlier fiction (“Swamplandia,” for one), it’s still the setting for couple of stories, including an underwater Miami in “The Gondoliers.”

“Drums of Autumn,” by Diana Gabaldon

A fascinating blend of sci-fi historical adventure-romance continues the lives of Jamie and Claire Fraser and company. Immersive.

Cast ashore in the American Colonies, Claire and Jamie Fraser are faced with a bleak choice: return to a Scotland fallen into famine and poverty, or seize the risky chance of a new life in a New World - shadowed by Claire's knowledge of the coming revolution.

HISTORICAL ROMANCE

“It Happened One Autumn,” by Lisa Kleypas

This is a fun historical romp and feel good romance.

If you like Edith Wharton’s “The Buccaneers,” you might like this novel about a brash American heiress who is husband-hunting in mid-19th century England. It is typical Lisa Kleypas, book #2 in an interconnected series romance, with laughs, heart, and spice.

SCI-FI

“Darkness on the Edge of Town,” by Adam Christopher

Good read to fill in the holes of Hopper's back-story and the perfect theme for October/Halloween.

Hopper is starting over after returning home from Vietnam. A young daughter, a caring wife, and a new beat as an NYPD detective make it easy to slip back into life as a civilian. But after shadowy federal agents suddenly show up and seize the files about a series of brutal, unsolved murders, Hopper takes matters into his own hands, risking everything to discover the truth.

FILMS

“Coco,” by Lee Unkrich

This is a movie about family, tradition, culture and what it means to be alive. It’s set during the Day of the Dead and it’s my favorite movie to watch in the fall!

Despite his family’s baffling generations-old ban on music, Miguel dreams of becoming an accomplished musician like his idol, Ernesto de la Cruz. Desperate to prove his talent, Miguel finds himself in the stunning and colorful Land of the Dead following a mysterious chain of events. Along the way, he meets charming trickster Hector, and together, they set off on an extraordinary journey to unlock the real story behind Miguel’s family history.

“Friday Night Lights,” by Peter Berg

It’s fall, all that “matters” are books and football. One of my favorite movies because it has so much meaning behind it. I live in a small community that is surrounded by football and this time of year the community really pulls together.

This movie is about a football team that has to overcome not only obstacles on the field but the community as well. It shows how pressure is placed on high school students to win a game that should be about fun and teamwork.

Get ready for Green Dot SafeZones! This year, Palm Beach County’s Green Dot Program will be establishing what will be known as “Green Dot SafeZones”. In an effort to provide safe places for anyone who is a potential victim, has been victimized, or knows someone struggling with victimization, the program will be sending out special window decals to signal to the general public that they are in a location where they can receive information on helpful resources.

The only thing an individual would need to do is approach any staff member at that location and say the signal phrase “How do I get in the zone?” The employee will then be able to discreetly bridge the gap between victims and the help that they need.

The Palm Beach County Library System, has agreed to participate as a pilot location for the Green Dot SafeZones initiative. The total combined reach for staff would be circa 1,000 individuals. For the public, the potential reach is upwards of 200,000 individuals within a three-month period. The goal is to be able to connect the community to their local victim services and the partnering agencies that provide assistance to victims.

You may begin looking for the Green Dot SafeZones decals at your local county library in October 2019.

Please contact Clarice Redding, Green Dot Program Coordinator, at credding@pbcgov.org for more information. To learn more about Green Dot Palm Beach County, check out www.facebook.com/iRockTheDot.

The Friends of the Library are the proud sponsors of more than 200 activities and classes at branch locations throughout the County. Their support allows the Library to purchase craft supplies, bring in talented musical performers and purchase equipment used in training. Without their support the Library would not be able to offer many of the musical performances, presentations, craft activities and educational workshops. The Friends funds support items that are not covered by the Library’s budget.
