November is a time to gather with family and friends and give thanks. Throughout the month, the Library is hosting activities to celebrate the season. There are virtual events filled with stories, music and crafts that showcase Thanksgiving and autumn. This year we are hosting two new events during the month of November which are Native American Heritage Month, see page 6, and Nation Novel Writing Month (NANOWRIMO), see page 9.

Magazines are a great resource for information. I encourage you to read full-page digital copies available through Flipster. We recently added a number of new titles that cover a broad range of interests from arts and culture to science and leisure activities. To check out current and past issues of the magazines, visit www.pbclibrary.org/magazines and begin perusing your favorite magazine.

I encourage you to register and attend our interactive events hosted by library staff throughout the County. There are a plethora of options and without needing to travel you can attend events originating at any of our branches, including technology training, health and wellness classes, craft activities and more. There are also educational activities for all ages, including the popular Informed and Engaged series that sheds the light on racial injustice. At this year’s Friends of the Library Annual Meeting on Thu, Nov 04 Assistant County Administrator Todd Bonlarron and I will be the guest speakers and give a state of the County and Library updates in addition to the Friends business meeting. To register, visit www.pbclibrary.org and click on the Events icon located in the upper right.

On behalf of library staff, I wish you all a very happy Thanksgiving.

Douglas Crane, Library Director

What started at the turn of the century as an effort to gain a day of recognition for the significant contributions the first Americans made to the establishment and growth of the U.S., has resulted in a whole month being designated for that purpose.

One of the very proponents of an American Indian Day was Dr. Arthur C. Parker, a Seneca Indian, who was the director of the Museum of Arts and Science in Rochester, N.Y. Parker persuaded the Boy Scouts of America to set aside a day for the “First Americans” and for three years they adopted such a day. In 1915, the annual Congress of the American Indian Association meeting in Lawrence, Kansas, formally approved a plan concerning American Indian Day. It directed its president, Rev. Sherman Coolidge, an Arapahoe, to call upon the country to observe such a day. Coolidge issued a proclamation on Sep 28, 1915, which declared the second Saturday of each May as an American Indian Day and contained the first formal appeal for recognition of Indians as citizens.

The year before this proclamation was issued, Red Fox James, a Blackfoot Indian, rode horseback from state to state seeking approval for a day to honor Indians. On Dec 14, 1915, he presented the endorsements of 24 state governments at the White House. There is no record, however, of such a national day being proclaimed.

The first American Indian Day in a state was declared on the second Saturday in May 1916 by the governor of New York. Several states celebrate the fourth Friday in September. In Illinois, for example, legislators enacted such a day in 1919. Presently, several states have designated Columbus Day as Native American Day, but it continues to be a day we observe without any recognition as a national legal holiday.

In 1990 President George H. W. Bush approved a joint resolution designating November 1990 “National American Indian Heritage Month.” Similar proclamations, under variants on the name (including “Native American Heritage Month” and “National American Indian and Alaska Native Heritage Month”) have been issued each year since 1994.

Celebrate Native American Heritage Month

American Indian/Native American (AIAN)
Refers to persons belonging to Indigenous tribes of the continental United States (American Indians) and the Indigenous tribes and villages of Alaska (Alaska Natives).

What’s the Age?

Total Population of AIAN Origin
- About 2% or 6.9 million - The number of American Indian and Alaska Natives in the United States in 2019. These states have among the highest percentage of American Indian and Alaska Native residents:
  - 20.3%
    - Alaska
  - 14.0%
    - Oklahoma

AIAN-Owned Businesses
0.43% or 24,503 businesses were owned by American Indian and Alaska Natives. (This number only represents employer businesses.)

The top five types of American Indian and Alaska Native-owned businesses were:
- Construction – 4,821
- Professional, scientific, and technical services – 4,142
  (includes architectural, engineering and veterinary services)
- Healthcare and social assistance – 2,603
  (includes dentist and doctors’ offices)
- Retail trade – 2,347
  (includes clothing, shoe and book stores)
- Accommodation and Food Services – 1,798
  (includes restaurants)

Voting Rights
While most Native Americans were able to vote starting in 1924, many laws at the state-level prevented voting rights for all. It took over 40 years following 1924 for all 50 states to allow Native Americans to vote.

300 Indigenous Languages
There were once more than 300 indigenous languages spoken in the United States, with only 175 remaining. The most popular of these languages is Navajo, with about 170,000 speakers.

Largest Tribal Groupings
- 574 – The number of federally recognized Indian tribes in 2020.

3 largest American Indian tribal groupings in 2010:
- Cherokee – 819,105
- Navajo – 332,129
- Choctaw – 195,764

3 largest Alaska Native tribal groupings in 2010:
- Yup’ik – 33,889
- Inupiat – 33,360
- Tlingit-Haida – 26,080

Tribal groupings refer to the combining of individual American Indian and Alaska Native tribes, such as combining Fort Sill Apache, Mescalero Apache, and San Carlos Apache, into the general Apache tribal grouping.

63 State-Recognized Tribes
There are 63 state-recognized tribes in 11 states: Alabama, Connecticut, Georgia, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, New York, North Carolina, South Carolina, Vermont and Virginia.

State-recognized tribes are recognized by their respective state governments.
State recognition acknowledges the historical and cultural contributions of various tribes.

American Indian/Native American (AIAN)
Refers to persons belonging to Indigenous tribes of the continental United States (American Indians) and the Indigenous tribes and villages of Alaska (Alaska Natives).

The Friends of the Library are a 501(C)3 organization whose mission is to support the Palm Beach County Library System to promote enhanced library services, provide financial assistance for special events and advocate for library needs.

The Friends receive the majority of their funding from copier revenue, book donations, memberships and monetary contributions. With the Libraries closed due to the coronavirus the Friends of the Library are unable to raise funds from our regular sources, the copiers or donated materials. In order to continue to provide quality activities once we return to some semblance of normal, please consider making a donation to the Friends.

You may donate online at www.pbclibrary.org/friends or mail your donation to The Friends of the Library at 3650 Summit Boulevard, West Palm Beach, FL 33406.
