Fall is coming in with cooler air... well, maybe not in South Florida, but it doesn’t mean we can’t celebrate all that autumn has to offer. While there are many goings-on in October, the last day is probably the most recognized ... Halloween! In addition to crafts and scary stories, in the following pages you will find children’s costume parades making their way through the stacks at many locations throughout the Library System.

On a more serious note, October is also Cybersecurity Awareness Month. Internet safety is something that affects us all. In fact, did you know that 1 in 3 homes have computers infected with malicious software (according to Microsoft Security Intelligence Report and Consumer Reports)? The Library offers classes on how you can combat cyber criminals and keep your family safe.

Family History Month is also celebrated this month. Now is the perfect time to start researching your family tree! Get started by taking one of our fascinating classes on how to preserve memories or how to use our databases and when you’re in the area, the Genealogical Society of Palm Beach County has an amazing collection located in the basement of the Main Library.

This month’s activities for all ages would not be possible without the generous support of the Friends of the Library. You can play a role in bringing even more entertaining and informative activities to Palm Beach County by: 1) becoming a Friends member today (see the back cover of this issue); 2) making a donation in honor or memory of a loved one; and 3) shopping our selection of gently-used books at each Library location.

As always, thank you for your support of the Palm Beach County Library System!

Douglas Crane, Library Director

Fire Safety Tips

By: Elyse Weintraub Brown, PBC Fire Rescue Community Risk Reduction Division/Community Education

If there’s a fire, you only have about 3 minutes or less to escape! On average, that’s the span of one song or two TV commercials. How can you give you and your family more time in the event of a fire? Follow these tips.

1. Create a home escape plan & practice!
   Young children, those who use assistive devices or move slower may need help and more time to get out. Plan accordingly and choose at least two ways to get outside — door and window. Purchase home escape ladders for homes with more than one level.

2. Smoke alarms save lives!
   For your protection, install smoke alarms throughout your home. Follow manufacturer’s instructions. They must be high on the wall or ceiling of your home, inside all sleeping areas and out and in all the main areas of the home. Why? Smoke alarms sound early when the fire is small, giving you precious seconds to get outside.

3. Sleep with bedroom doors closed.
   Doors can protect you and give you more time to get outside through a window instead. Doors keep smoke and heat out of your room longer so temperatures stay around 100° F. That’s the average heat index in South Florida — totally survivable. On the other side of the door with the fire, temperatures range from 1,000° F to about 1,800° F — one breath of air this hot is not survivable. Close before you doze.

4. If a fire starts, GET DOWN!
   Remember, smoke rises rapidly in a fire and has poisonous gases. If the smoke alarms sound, get low below the smoke and get out.

5. Meet in a safe location.
   Choose a meeting place outside in front of the home near the roadway next to something that never moves such as a tree or mailbox. That way, your family and the firefighters can see everyone who made it out safely. Choose a meeting place outside where you can call for help.
In 2001, the U.S. Congress designated October as Family History Month to acknowledge people's desire to research their family heritage and to recognize that "within our Nation's libraries and archives lie the treasured records that detail the history of our Nation, our states, our communities and our citizens." Genealogy continues to be one of the most popular hobbies and libraries all over the world continue to provide the resources people need to explore their family history.

The Palm Beach County Library System provides access to the tools you need to get started on your family's journey. Ancestry® Library Edition provides access to a wide variety of historical records including the U.S. Census, birth certificates, death certificates, naturalization applications, military draft cards and more. The Library also provides access to HeritageQuest with its treasure trove of unique records including Freedman's Bank records, Revolutionary War pensions and the Congressional Serial Set. Check out the Library's genealogy resources at www.pbclibrary.org/genealogy.

If you are interested in local or family history books, there are a lot of titles to explore in the Genealogical Society of Palm Beach County Library located downstairs at our Main Library. They are open Monday through Thursday from 10:00 am – 4:00 pm and Fridays from 10:00 am – 1:00 pm.

Talk to your favorite librarian today about how you can get started on your family history journey and be sure to check out our numerous activities during Family History Month.

Halloween is among the oldest traditions in the world as it touches on an essential element of the human condition: the relationship between the living and the dead. The observance evolved from ancient rituals marking the transition from summer to winter, thereby associating it with transformation, which is still a central theme of the holiday.

Countries around the world today celebrate Halloween in one form or another, from Mexico’s Day of the Dead to China’s Tomb Sweeping Day. The modern-day observance of Halloween in countries such as the United States and Canada share in this ancient tradition, even though some aspects of the holiday are relatively recent developments.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Before we carved pumpkins into jack-o’-lanterns, people were using turnips. People turned to pumpkins when they found they were easier to carve. The Library will be hosting many pumpkin-related activities for children, including a Kids Pumpkin Decorating Contest on Sat, Oct 22, 2:30 pm via Zoom.

- Children have been going trick-or-treating since the Middle Ages. Back in medieval times (around 476 AD), children used to go door-to-door exchanging songs and poems for food or money. Today, children go door-to-door exchange a simple “trick-or-treat” for candy. The Library will be hosting a variety of parades and trick-or-treating events.

- The Halloween holiday is the second largest commercial holiday in the U.S. after Christmas. People spend an estimated $6 billion annually on this spooky holiday whether it is for yard decorations, costumes for the kids or candy ... lots and lots of candy! Look for the 🎃 to see all of our free Halloween festivities. Our Halloween events are also listed on our website at www.pbclibrary.org/halloween2022.

Special Needs Activities

October 2022

The Library offers a variety of different resources to make our events more inclusive for our Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing community. At each branch, we are equipped with Assistive Hearing headsets that members can borrow for use during our activities. These devices amplify what’s being transmitted from the presenters’ microphones. You may also request an American Sign Language (ASL) interpreter to translate Library activities and events at no charge. If interested, please contact the presenting branch and ask the program coordinator for more information about requesting an ASL interpreter. Please be sure to check out the Special Needs page on our website to read more about the activities and resources we have available!
